Regarding the current legislative session, on new gun related bills, these will do nothing to stop gun violence and crime. It will embolden criminals knowing they are not the ones that will abide. Only to leave us law abiding responsible citizens as the ones being regulated. Why not focus on actually enforcing the laws that are already on the books? Your current laws are not prosecuted, and it shows. Plenty of cases where criminals get out on bail, or promises to appear in court, and it leaves a bad precedent to all criminals. If you keep pushing these ridiculous ideas that criminals will listen to more rules, you will be voted out of office most definitely. Do you think these criminals registered and destroyed their now illegal items back in 2013? The answer is most definitely NO. And they keep being found in crimes. You will never stop a criminal unless you start enforcing and prosecuting the most basic crimes. Thank you for your time.
